

A Long Way To Go

Written by John Bocchino

The sun slips down behind the trees
Another day gone but more to come
He wakes in the morning and that's what he sees
His whole life before him, no need to run

The winter thaws, gives way to spring
Put away the coats and break out the shoes
Smell the flowers, hear the birds sing
She's in tune with Nature's clues

Chorus:

Seize the moment, seize the day
But take it easy and take it slow
Don't let too much get in the way
You still have a long way to go

You're not done yet, take another lap
Hometown heroes never last too long
Hop in the car and grab a map
Crank the radio to your favorite song

Down the road in a cloud of dust
Colorado summers are dry as a bone
Head for the mountains, a place you can trust
No signal here, so turn off the phone

Chorus:

Seize the moment, seize the day
But take it easy and take it slow
Don't let too much get in the way
You still have a long way to go

You've heard it before, "enjoy it while it lasts"
The trees still stand when we're long gone
Gotta move forward, not live in the past
Each day is new, life's a long song

They wake up together to the sound of the rain
Hold on tight because you know
It can wait for tomorrow, start over again
You still have a long way to go

Chorus:

Seize the moment, seize the day
But take it easy and take it slow
Don't let too much get in the way
You still have a long way to go
